

CLAIMS:

Having thus described the invention, what is claimed is:

A HARP PICK. A hand held device of a particular size and thickness, comprised of compressed wool felt. It's primary function is to set the strings of a harp in motion, whereby facilitating that sonorous effect known as the "glissando".